Elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa.

W. THE REPUBLICANS TRUMPHANT! FAILURE OF C. W. BROOKS & CO.

> The United States steamship Vanderbilt, Admiral Thatcher, arrived this morning, having been telegraphed at 9 A. M. She left San Fran-

Her Majesty Ex-Queen Emma Landed at 124 o'clock, in the steam tug Pele, under a royal salute, and was escorted to the palace by the Hawaiian Cavalry and Household Troops.

The political news is important. Telegraphic advices, to Oct. 11th from New York, give reports of the fall elections. All the States which ave voted thus far have given large Republican mjorities, viz :

uai. 5 Pennsylvania, 25,000. Ohio, 50,000. Iowa, 35,000.

Indiana, 15,000. A report states that the President has sent to his Attorney General a written dispatch, inquiring whether he can legally suppress Congress. This has been since pronounced a canard. The following is the telegram referred to: Cancago, Octobor 17th -The Philadelphia Ledger publishes the following dated Washington, Oct. 10th. The President has sent in to the Attorney General the following questions, and requested that a response be returned in writing : First-Is the present Congress, composed of members from the Northern States alone, such a Congress as the Constitution requires, or is it an illegal and unconstitutional assemblaga? Second -Would existing circumstances justify the President in sending his next annual message to an illegal and unconstitutional assemblage pretending to be the Congress of the United States ! Third-Does the clause in section 5, Article I, of the Constitution, which makes each house the judge of election returns and qualifications of its own membees give to the present Congress the right to exclude members from ten States, or to impose dishonorable or anconstitutional terms upon their admission? Fourth-Dues the President's outh of office require him to enforce those provisions of the Constitution which give to each State an equal right of representation in Congress? Fifth-What steps do the Constitution and his outh of office require the President to take, in order to secure the assemblage of a constitutional Con-

and Bulletin

We are pained to record the suspension of a large business firm. The well known house of Chas W. Brooks & Co. suspended payment to day, in consequence of the failure of a prominent operator whose erchandise is reported to have largely depreciated, and for whom they had made heavy engagements.

Realizing their unexpected position, and being advised that no general assignment can be made under the existing laws of this State, they acted promptly, wisely concluding to protect their firm's regular bosiness creditors, as far as the limited time would admit, by executing separate assignments of all regular firm assets; thus, it is thought, their general liabilities are covered, leaving the remaining margins of the operator's depreciated stock to apply equally in liquidating outstanding engagements founded on the special transactions undertaken in his behalf. It is confident expected that their suspension will prove only temporary, and that arrangements will be effected, enabling them to resume business. They have been an active and enterprising firm, engaged in the shipping and commission business, largely connected with the foreign commerce of our city, widely known, and generally respected. Had they not suffered severely from a heavy defalcation by their former book-keeper and cashier, whose sudden death, some time since, when coupled with facts since revealed by an examination of his books, leads to the over, was made the first victim of political guilbelief that he committed suicide to avoid exposure, the firm could, we are told, even now have met all

The firm was well known for its enterprise and integrity, and the failure elicits the sympathy of the business community.
